"Mello, you have a call." A tall, brown haired guy knocked and walked slowly into her room. "Ah, I mean, my friend is calling you now."

Her eyes got widen and tried to get the phone from Souji. "WAIT!" She frozen and looked down a bit, "G- give the phone.. to me.." She said with her red cheek. Souji's smile got widen and gave her the phone with a wink. She pushed Souji until he stood outside of her room, "D-don't overhear me!" She said with small voice, almost whispering, then closed the door.

"Mello?"

A voice from the phone made her face more red than before and her smile grown up. She really relieved hearing his voice now. "Y-yes.. It's me, Saitou-senpai.."

"Aa, so you're already in home.. sorry for not going home with you.." His voice almost like murmured, and suddenly the atmosphere turned so awkward when he finished his words.

"A.." She took a deep breathe, "Are you still at school, senpai?" _At least, I can asked what I really wanted to ask to him.._

"Aa. I still at school, maybe I'll here until tomorrow, because so much workâ€", " His words cut by some voiced of books fell. Mello gasped and automatically stood up, "Sa-saitou-senpai, you okay..?"

He coughed for broke the awkward and nervous moment, "Yes. I'm okay. I just call you for make sure that you're already at home. So-, "

"A-aah..!"

She stopped, and also he stopped his words too, until some minutes, and continued his words, "You.. okay?" He asked suddenly.

"Do you mind if I go to school and help you with your works.. I will.. try my best to not makes any trouble for you, senpai.."

Silence. _Oh shit.._ She cursed herself for saying something like that, but she couldn't stand herself when she thought his boyfriend working so hard without any help. "I.. can't?"

"â€|..Aa. I'll be waiting for you."

PIP.

The phone was turned off. She looked at the phone, and her face turned deep red. She took her hoodie and her bag. She ran and ran from one room to the other room, and it made Souji mad.

"Well, if you want to go to Hajime-kun, at last try to be a lady!" He said teasingly, and it responded by her kick on his back. "D-don't tell me that you hearing our conversation!" Souji just smiled at her and gave his wink, exchange for saying 'good luck' for her.

When she was busy with her thought, suddenly her right hand grabbed by someone, and it made her screaming so loud.

"M-Mello, calm down! It's me." That voice so familiar to her, and her eyes looked a purple haired guy behind her. "Se-senpai!" She sat down on the ground because she lost her leg's strength. "I thought you was a ghost or something.."

Saitou sighed and smiled at her, "A girl didn't deserve sitting on the ground like this." Her face turned deep red and reached his hand. "T-thank you.."

After that, they walked into student council room. "U-uaah, so many papers and books..!" Mello said while entered the room.

"I just have to finish this one, you can sit on that chair." Saitou said and sat in front of a computer and some papers beside it.

"But.." She moved the chair beside him, and sat down. "I said that.. I want to help you, right..?" She asked and smiled a bit.

Saitou just kept his mouth, didn't say anything. Awkward moment came back to them, and it made Mello felt guilty. _Am I bothering him..? _ She just played with her hands. Just sounds of Saitou's finger which typed on the computer's keyboard, and some papers which written by him too.

She looked at him, staring at his glasses and his hands when he typed on the computer. She laid her head on desk behind Saitou and closed her eyes. Just being like this with him, sat together in the same room with him without talking, kinda made her nervous and happy in the same time. She closed her eyes, gave a rest time for her eyes and her brain.

Suddenly his eyes opened and his blue eyes looked straight at him. "Finally, you called my name." He said with his deep voice, still looked straight at her.

She surprised and moved her hand from his hair. "Ehâ€"sorry for waking you up, Saitou-se.." Her words stopped while Saitou grabbed her hand. Their eyes met each other, and just looked each other, without any words.

She still looked at his blue eyes and blinked, "â€|.Senpai..?"

"â€|Sorry.. for.. bothering you. You are working but I just.. can't help anything and just disturb you.."

"Who.. is saying like that?"
